

The Galway Walking Club has recently donated €100 towards the work of the Burrenbeo Trust based in Kinvara. The Trust works directly and indirectly, alone and with other organisations, to conserve the natural and cultural heritage of the Burren. The Trust also engages with local and visiting communities, old and young, to generate a sense of informed pride in their heritage and landscape.

Monthly walks and public talks on the history, terrain and archaeology of the Burren takes place in various locations in Co Clare.

Individual membership is €40 and other rates and information on the Trust's work is found on its website www.burrenbeo.com
